Benvenuto Club of Milan Cookies policy

This Notice describes as we, the Benvenuto Club of Milan, use cookies on our website.

A cookie is a small piece of data that – when you visit websites - is asked to be stored in your device. The main function is to remember information about your preferences (language, for instance) when you return to the same website.

Information collected with cookie do not allow us to identify you but it can offer a better user experience when visiting websites.

There are two main types of cookies: the strictly necessary and the optional ones.

We only use strictly necessary cookies required for the operation of our website and they cannot be switched off in our system. We use the so-called "session cookies" that are cookies that are deleted once you close your internet browser (different from persistent cookies that last for a longer period that we do not use).

For your information here a list of different cookies that you may find visiting websites:

Technical cookies

These cookies are strictly necessary, required for the operation of the website and its features. They cannot be switched off the system. The information collected relates to the operation of the website and enables us to provide you with the service you have requested. And they don't' store personal data.

Functional cookies

These are optional cookies and are used to remember some functionalities (i.e. country you are visiting websites from) or the choices you have made. If you don't allow these cookies, you may have some services not function properly and your visiting experience may be less tailored and enjoyable.

Analytical/performance cookies

These cookies are also optional and are generally used to collect information on how visitors use website (i.e. which pages you visit most). Information collected is used to improve your website utilization and navigation.

Cookies placed by Third Party

We don't' use this type of cookies.
These cookies are usually placed by third party provider to collect and aggregate information on visitor but data are anonymous and used for analysis services (i.e. keyword used to reach the website, other similar website visited, etc).

Targeting Cookies

These cookies are optional and used to record your visit on website (i.e the pages you have reached and the links you have followed). We don't use these cookies but are generally used to improve tailoring website to visitor requests or interests and also to measure the effectiveness of marketing action or initiative. Some may be interesting for third party organization (such as Linkedin, Youtube, etc) to keep your experience more targeted on advertising.

Third party websites' links

Our website may contain links to other third party's websites. Please refer to any third party's for information on how the collect data, for which use and for how long they may store them (3rd party privacy policy), which are different from our privacy policy and for what 3rd party sites respond.

How to control or delete use of cookies ?

No consent is needed for technical cookies because they are strictly necessary.

For other types of cookies consent may be controlled through website settings or asked by controller and given by visitors (banner on opening Home page).

You may set your browser based on your effective preferences also rejecting all cookies but this will enable you to use some part/functionalities of the website.

Using our website you consent the use of technical and functional cookies only.

We don't' use any other type of cookies at the moment.

If we will change type of cookies you will be informed by a message/pop-up on the website for a reasonable length of time prior the change or through another appropriate method.

Or if you prefer you can set your preferences on your browser setting that will work for any visit.
